After an extensive investigation, police discovered dried body fluids on the was done in which it was found that they did not belong to the child nor to the father. He was freed and is now back with his family.

The second case involved the murders of two young women in rural England. Again, after a long investigation, genetic typing led police to the murderer.

The explanation of how genetic typing is done is very difficult for the layperson to understand, but it is all based on the chemical DNA (deoxyribonucleic acid), which is found in every human body cell except red blood cells. The sequential structure of DNA is unique to every human being. Only identical twins share the same DNA sequence.

Criminologists and forensic scientists search crime scenes for bodily fluids that they can match against homocide victims. When one is found and genetic typing is done, they match that genetic map with the genetic maps of suspects. When a match is found, they have solved the crime.

Genetic typing is not a technology series "Nova," you may have recently found only in major crime areas seen the story that told how serviced by the most modern scientific advancements in technology have laboratories. "It was chipping and wearing away," said Compton, "and it seemed the enormous job of restoring the sad to see it ruined by the weather. They took it way before Thanksgiving, and as you can see," she proudly posed with the bench, "they did a terrific job for us."

Inscribed on the bench are the words, "there are some too gentle to live among the wolves," and when the young men of Shawano Center read the inscription, they all agreed and said they felt they were about to more special." work on something very special. County courthouse employee objects to proposed smoking ban

I would like to take this opportunity discrimination! to voice my opinion and concerns Ordinance.

First of all, I can't help but wonder if the no-smoking policy, which took effect late last year, was adopted as some sort of unwarranted retaliation. Is this all about power and control?

Where to begin?

Most people know that the worst way to go about getting something accomplished is to try to cram it down someone's throat. It's sad that, as far as I know, no member of the board was no easing into it, no incentive to stop smoking, no concern for providing ordinance? Again, retaliation? a designated smoking area. Kmart Store Walkers

TO: Grayling Area Residents FROM: Paul Lokay - Kmart

Some of our customers have asked if they could bring their walking shoes into our Grayling Kmart store before the store opens and get some exercise. We think it's a great ideal

Any Grayling area resident wishing to get fit walking our aisles should stop in between 7:00 am and 8:15 am Monday through Saturday.

Because those hours are a busy time for us stocking shelves and cleaning up - you will need to use some extra caution and you may need to dodge boxes on the floor and stock carts on the move. But if you're willing to put up with our "early morning obstacle course" in exchange for some good exercise, we're happy to have you with us.

The only things you need to do are: 1) sign this form and drop off at the Grayling Kmart and 2) show up!

TO: Paul Lokay Kmart

Grayling, Michigan

Yes, I would like to participate in the early morning walks through your store anytime between 7:00 am and 8:15 am Monday through Saturday, I do understand that because the store is not open for business during those times and because there may be hazardous conditions I wouldn't normally find in the store. I will use the store aisles at my own risk and I will not hold Kmart Corporation liable if I am injured while participating in an early morning walk.

THE INTEREST ON YOUR CD IS GOING, GOING. GONE.

Tired of seeing your CD returns reduced by inflation and taxes? It may be time to consider the alternatives.

Sure, your certificate of deposit offers a guaranteed principal and fixed rate of interest. And most of the alternatives lack guarantees, resulting in some degree of risk to principal. But the fact is, if you're saving for the long-term, you need to look beyond guarantees and examine total return-interest earnings plus capital appreciation. This is the key to outpacing inflation and accumulating wealth.

Don't watch your savings fade away. If you have a CD coming due soon, learn more about your options before rolling it over. For more information, contact:

•Ask your favorite restaurant to consider going smoke free. Restaurants who do, find business increases.

All smokers should seriously consider quitting to protect the health of their loved ones. Non-smokers should not hesitate to stand up for

Church Directory

"What self-respecting canine would stand still ... I mean sit still ... for this? My master had better get a move on before I leap out of this washtub and give him a shower! If this gets out, I'll be the laughing stock of the neighborhood. Oh well, patience is a virtue. He is good to me, but what did I do to deserve this? It's a dog's life!"

There are those times that we endure through our faith in God. We may feel undeserving of our plight, yet accept it as necessary for our spiritual development. Trusting our Master to have a purpose for every situation, we know that He is always with us.

This Sabbath, may we thank God for His faithfulness to us, His children, and resolve to begin each day with a prayer of trust ... "Thy will be done."

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover Park Interpreter, Hartwick Pines State Park

One day last week, I accompanied a together, but it was a pleasure to small group of wildlife biologists and conservation officers as they set out to shown for three members of our locate, remove from a den and put radio collars on five black bears. When it was all over, there were only two of the three bears. the four cubs in the den along with their mother. The radio collar on the recall, so the bears were placed on mother was replaced and new collars turned out, were one of each sex.

The Mystery of B. J.'s Stallion In the 1800s there were many horse ranches. One ranch in northern Colorado, was doing great. It sold horses to the Pony Express. The horses this ranch sold were young, fast, and strong. The ranch was named B. J.'s. and B. J. Stoner owned it.

B. J. Stoner was old and frail, and his wife had been gone for twelve years. The joy of his life now was his niece, Maria. She was young, vivacious, and full of pep. Someday the ranch would belong to her. Summer dragged by, the dusty hot months gradually turned into fall. B. J. looked forward to the fall when Maria would come to stay.

The morning came for B. J. to meet Maria on the coach from town. He climbed on his easiest riding horse and was just about to leave when a man called to him from the corral. "Howdy, came to see about this here stallion I been hearing about." The man was brown from sunlight and his eyes never quite met B. J.'s. "Names Cliff, from Cliff's horse ranch. I'd like to buy this here horse. What would you take for him? Four hundred? Six hundred? I'll pay what you're asking so long as it ain't a arm and a leg," he laughed a low, nasty laugh.

"The stallion is not for sale," said B.

"If you will excuse me, I have business in town and I have to go now," B.J. turned his horse and headed out to the road into town.

"Fine, fine," called Cliff, after B. J., "We will have to discuss this again. I aim to get what I want." B. J. ignored him and went to pick up Maria.

The first thing Maria did when she came home was to go to the stallion's corral. "Hello, there, my beauty," she crooned to the horse. He neighed and pushed at her hand with his nose. "Oh, it's not me you're happy to see, it's the apple in my hand you want, isn't it?" Beauty munched his apple as she scratched behind his ear.

Later after dinner, Maria watched B. J. snooze in his big chair and listened to the sounds of the ranch. She wandered upstairs and bounced on the big bed. Setting into the cozy warmth of down quilts, she was soon fast asleep.

Maria woke with a start. There was noise that shouldn't be there. It was coming from the corral. Muffled sounds, scraping of wooden boards, creaking hinges of the stall gates. Maria didn't stop to wake B. J., she tore down the stairs, grabbing a lantern from the kitchen counter.

She looked around, Beauty's stall door swung open in the dark night wind. The sound of horses galloping off through the main gate across the paddock echoed in the still night. 6), wrote one, too! Phillip is in the Beauty was gone.

Maria ran to the stall next to Beauty's and saddled a black mare. She went that was very mean. And that tiger had back to the house to get some warmer sharp claws. was deserted. She went to his house on the street across from the office. "What the devil is going on!" he said as he met her on the porch.

"Someone stole my uncle's black stallion in the night. Come quick!" He just scratched his head and said, "I'll look into it soon as I git going this morning,"

By the time Maria got back to the ranch, B. J. was up and had discovered Beauty was missing. He went crazy. Maria's friend from across the river had decided to visit, his name was Michael, and when Maria rode up, he was trying very hard to calm B. J. down.

When B. J. explained to Mike and Maria that Cliff had been to the ranch, and what he had said to the old man, they both decided to make a visit to Cliff's ranch. B. J. wanted to go with them, but they talked him into waiting for the sheriff so they would have someone coming after them.

They tied their horses on the far side of the pasture, and they sneaked quietly and quickly into the pasture around the barn. 'You go one way, and I'll go the other," whispered Maria, "Maybe we can find Beauty." Maria entered the cool, dark barn. She couldn't see a thing. She turned to check a stall and knocked a bucket from the nail it was hanging on. It clattered and rolled across the floor and came to rest against a brown boot. "Well, well, what have we here?" Cliff reached her before she could escape. He grabbed her by the shirt and dragged her from the barn. Another man had Mike tied behind the feed wagon. "You two are trespassin," the man holding Mike growled. "Probably rustling horses," Cliff said.

Just then B. J. and the sheriff rode through the gate. "Let loose my niece!" Cliff yelled. "What is going on here?" the sheriff asked Cliff. "Well, these two were in my barn. Maybe they was going to steal a horse or something." Cliff was making it seem that they were the thieves.

"Sheriff, ask Cliff if he has a C stamped into the shoe of his horses," said Maria. "Well?" asked the sheriff. "That's a fact, Sheriff. Every one of my horses is stamped. Right front shoe. So, now what?" The sheriff looked at Maria waiting for her to make her point. "Check those horses on the other side of the barn in the closed stalls. If there is one, a black stallion with B. J.'s brand and without the C stamped on the right front shoe, Cliff's the horse thief. Not us!"

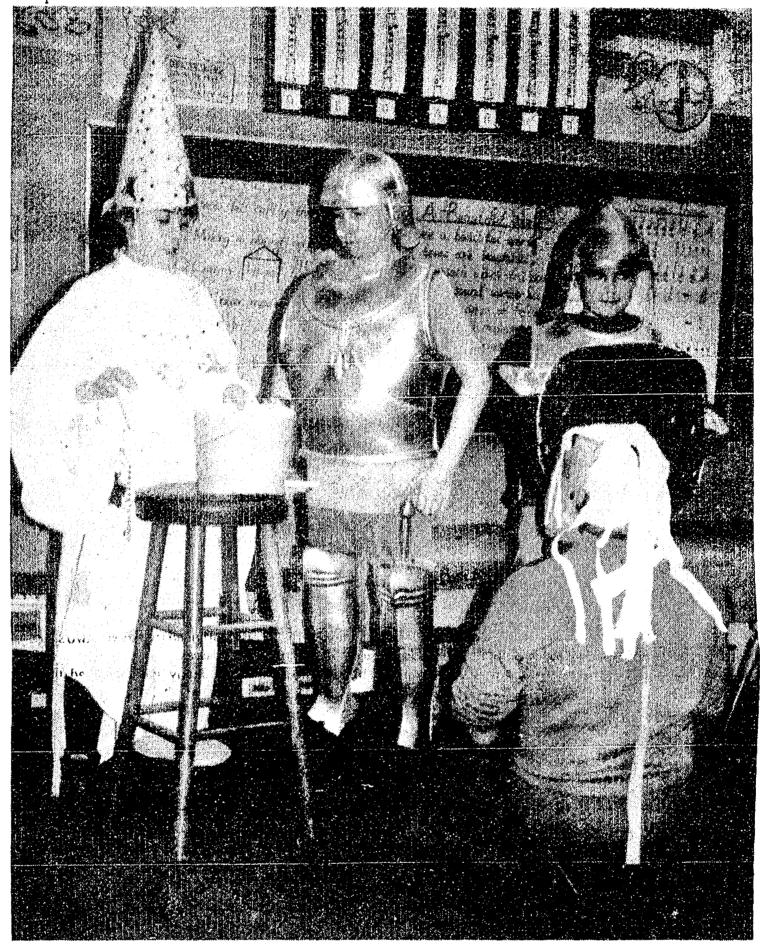

The sheriff found Beauty in the last stall. He took Cliff off to the town jail and Maria, Mike, and B. J. left on their horses back to B.J.'s ranch. The best one, horse ranch that is, in the west!

Important Notice Relative To Delinquent Taxes

Because the list of Delinquent tax lands for tax sale advertising must necessarily be made up several months ahead of time in order to get it in the printer's hands, several descriptions are included in the Crawford County list on which taxes have been paid.

IF YOUR 1990 AND PRIOR YEARS TAXES HAVE BEEN PAID, YOUR LAND CANNOT BE SOLD IN THE MAY 4, 1993, TAX SALE.

If you have not paid your taxes and your land is listed for sale, you must pay at any time up until Monday, May 3, 1993.

We shall be glad to answer any other questions you may have about the tax sale here at the Treasurer's Office.

> Joseph V. Wakeley Crawford County Treasurer

GMS bands earn top marks at districts

The Grayling Middle School bands - earned straight I ratings at the district festival. They were able to Arbor). Michigan School Band and Orchestra because, starting this school year, there Festival, held March 6 at Traverse teaching the 8th grade class and tone, intonation and style." City Central Elementary School.

to both groups — the 8th grade band, performing in Class C, and the 7th performing in Class D.

Classes are determined differently by the M.S.B.O.A. GMS qualifies as a Class C band. The highest level performing (the 8th graders) does so at the class level it has been assigned. The younger band (7th graders) are permitted to perform up to two class levels lower.

VanHoose, the 7th grade.

Having two bands "gives the high praise from the judges: All the judges gave I (highest) ratings directors extra time to work with individual students," said Ormsbee. under the direction of Dennis Ormsbee, "Last year, there were 80 students total. Empire Bank joins AuSable Canoe Marathon

Keith Kenney, Vice President of Empire National Bank, has officially placed the bank on the growing list of sponsors of the Canoe Marathon.

"We are honored to become a contributing sponsor of the Canoe Marathon and are confident it will continue to grow," said Kenney. Don Schanz, Marathon Committee Board Member said, "Empire Bank has become a key contributor to our community in the short time they've been here in Grayling. We're very pleased they decided to join the other sponsors as we continue to grow the Marathon to a world class event.

The committee of the Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon has also announced that the race now has an official headquarters located in the mini-mall.

"The race has grown significantly in the past three years and has gotten to the point where we had to have a place to provide the proper level of planning, support and coordination. As the race has grown, the required level of support and people involvement has also increased. This location provides the race an official home," said Phil Weiler, Committee Chairperson.
